

2009
WOMEN'S National FESTIVAL

THIS IS USA Hockey

USA Hockey, Inc., is the National Governing Body for the sport of ice hockey in the United States. Its mission is to promote the growth of hockey in America and provide the best possible experience for all participants by encouraging, developing, advancing and administering the sport.

USA Hockey's primary emphasis is on the support and development of grassroots hockey programs. In January 2009, the organization launched the American Development Model, which - for the first time ever - provides associations nationwide with a blueprint for optimal athlete development.

While youth hockey is a main focus, USA Hockey also has vibrant junior and adult hockey programs that provide opportunities for players of all ability levels. The organization also supports a growing disabled hockey program and maintains an inline hockey program to provide structure and support for its growth across the nation.

Beyond serving those who play the game at the amateur level, USA Hockey has certification programs for coaches and officials to ensure education standards are met that coincide with the level of play. Furthermore, a large focus is put on parent education with equipment needs, rules of the game and parental roles in youth sports among common topics.

Members of the organization are entitled to many benefits, including a subscription to USA Hockey Magazine, the most widely circulated hockey publication in the world; excess accident, general liability and catastrophic insurance coverage; access to USAHockey.com; and opportunities to participate in USA Hockey National Championships, as well as player development camps.

USA Hockey is the official representative to the United States Olympic Committee and the International Ice Hockey Federation. In this role, USA Hockey is responsible for organizing and training men's and women's team for international tournaments, including the IIHF World Championships and the Olympic and Paralympic Winter Games. Closer to home, USA Hockey works closely with the National Hockey League and the National Collegiate Athletic Association on matters of mutual interest.

USA Hockey is divided into 12 geographical districts throughout the United States. Each district has a registrar to register teams; a referee-in-chief to register officials and organize clinics; a coach-in-chief to administer education program for coaches; a risk manager to oversee liability and safety programs; and a skill development program administrator to facilitate learn-to-play programs for youth players and their parents.

MICHELE

Amidon Director, Women's Hockey

Michele Amidon began her duties as USA Hockey's first-ever director of women's hockey in August of 2006. She is responsible for the management of the women's national team program, including development efforts of both coaches and players.

In early 2008, after Amidon had been in her role with the national governing body just a year and a half, Team USA captured gold medals at both the International Ice Hockey Federation World Women's U18 Championship and the IIHF World Women's Championship. Then, at the 2008 Women's Four Nations Cup, Team USA earned its first championship since 2003. In 2009, both the U.S. Women's National Under-18 Team and the U.S. Women's National Team successfully defended their world titles.

A former U.S. Women's National Team player, Amidon spent eight seasons (1998-2006) as the highly successful head coach of the Bowdoin College women's ice hockey team prior to joining USA Hockey's national office staff.

During her nine seasons at Bowdoin – eight as head coach and one as an assistant coach – Amidon led the Polar Bears to unrivaled success. She guided the team to a 140-52-12 overall record, which included four NCAA tournament appearances, two New England Small College Athletic Conference championships and four NESCAC championship-game appearances.

Bowdoin began its rise to national prominence during the 2001-02 season, a year in which Amidon guided the Polar Bears to a school-record 23 victories, the NESCAC championship and the school's first-ever appearance in the NCAA tournament. For her efforts, she was honored as the NESCAC Coach of the Year.

The 2002-03 campaign brought even more success, as Amidon guided Bowdoin back to the NCAA tournament and a third-place national finish. That year, she was named both the NCAA Division III Coach of the Year by the American Hockey Coaches Association and the NESCAC Coach of the Year.

Amidon also has coaching experience at the international level, having served as assistant coach with the U.S. National Women's 22 & Under Team that competed in the 1999 Christmas Cup in Fussen, Germany. In addition, she has been involved as a head coach at USA Hockey's Player Development Camps on several occasions.

Amidon has a multitude of international playing experience on her resume, including winning a silver medal as a member of the U.S. Women's National Team at the 1992 IIHF World Women's Championship.

A 1994 graduate of St. Lawrence University, Amidon was a four-year letter winner and three-year captain of the SLU women's ice hockey team. In her first year with the team, she was voted ECAC Rookie and Division III Player of the Year. Named the ECAC Most Valuable Player as a junior and to the ECAC All-Star Team her senior campaign, Amidon was a three-time MVP of the St. Lawrence team.

Amidon resides in Colorado Springs, Colo.

MARK

Johnson Head Coach

Mark Johnson, who will lead the U.S. Women's National Team through the 2010 Olympic Winter Games, is among the most accomplished coaches in the world today.

Johnson has been involved as a head coach in the U.S. Women's National Program the past three seasons. In January of 2009, he guided the U.S. National Under-18 Team to the gold medal at the International Ice Hockey Federation World Women's U18 Championship. He followed it up by guiding the U.S. Women's National Team to gold at the IIHF World Women's Championship just three months later.

Johnson also served as head coach for the U.S. Women's Under-22 Select Team in 2007-08 and guided Team USA to a second-place finish at the 2006 Four National Cup, as well as the silver medal at the 2007 IIHF World Women's Championship.

As part of his role as head coach of the 2010 U.S. Olympic Women's Ice Hockey Team, Johnson will guide the squad during the Qwest Tour from September 2009 through February 2010 in the lead-up to the Vancouver Games, as well as at the 2009 Women's Four Nations Cup.

Prior to working with the women, Johnson twice served as an assistant coach for the U.S. Men's National Team in the IIHF Men's World Championship (2000, 2002) and also was an assistant coach at the 2001 U.S. Olympic Men's Ice Hockey Orientation Camp.

Beyond his numerous roles with Team USA, Johnson is the head women's ice hockey coach at the University of Wisconsin. There, Johnson has taken the Badger program to national prominence in his first six years at the helm. Under his guidance, the Badgers have advanced to the NCAA championship game in each of the past four seasons and captured the title in three of those years (2006, 2007, 2009). Since the 2005-06 campaign, Wisconsin has recorded 135 wins, more than any other team in the nation.

The 2006, 2007 and 2009 Western Collegiate Hockey Association Coach of the Year and American Hockey Coaches Association Division I Coach of the Year, Johnson led the Badgers to back-to-back WCHA regular-season, playoff and NCAA championships, while winning more games (72) in a two-year period (2005-07) than any other team in women's college hockey history. During the 2006-07 campaign, Johnson's team broke or tied 18 NCAA team and individual records, including wins in a season (36), fewest losses (one), best winning percentage (.927) and most shutouts (18). Johnson leads all active women's college hockey coaches with an .880 winning percentage after compiling a record of 210-19-22 in his first six years at Wisconsin.

Prior to his time on the Wisconsin women's bench, Johnson served as an assistant coach with the UW men's ice hockey program from 1996-02. In addition, Johnson coached professionally, directing the Colonial Hockey League-expansion Madison Monsters to a 37-30-7 mark in the 1995-96 season and earning CHL Coach of the Year honors.

Meanwhile, Johnson has represented the United States as a player in 13 international tournaments, including eight world championships. Most notably, he led the 1980 U.S. Olympic Men's Ice Hockey Team to the gold medal, tallying a team-leading 11 points, including two goals in the "Miracle On Ice" game against the Soviet Union.

Additionally, Johnson played at the University of Wisconsin, where he garnered WCHA Rookie of the Year honors in 1977 and went on to become the school's second all-time leading scorer with 256 points, including a still-standing school-record 125 goals in just three seasons. He was a two-time All-America selection (1978, 1979) and earned league MVP accolades in 1979.

Johnson enjoyed an 11-year National Hockey League career, during which time he racked up 508 points in 669 games. He enjoyed stints with the Pittsburgh Penguins, Minnesota North Stars, Hartford Whalers, St. Louis Blues and New Jersey Devils.

Among his numerous accolades throughout the years, Johnson, the son of legendary coach Bob Johnson, is a member of the U.S. Hockey Hall of Fame and the IIHF Hall of Fame.

Johnson, a native of Madison, Wis., earned his bachelor's degree in kinesiology from Wisconsin in 1994. He regularly resides in Verona, Wis., with his wife, Leslie, although he will be stationed in Minneapolis during the lead-up to the Vancouver Games.

The couple has five children, Doug (2/24/84), Chris (11/3/85), Patrick (4/21/89), Mikayla (8/15/94) and Megan (1/15/97). Doug is the head coach for the Wisconsin Ice Spirit Girls' U14 hockey team, Chris is a senior captain for the Augsburg College men's ice hockey team, Patrick is a junior on the UW men's ice hockey team and Mikayla and Megan play hockey for the Wisconsin Ice Spirit Girls' U14 and U12 teams, respectively.

DAVE

Flint Assistant Coach

Dave Flint, head coach of the Northeastern University women's ice hockey team, is in his third season on the staff of the U.S. Women's National Program. He will serve as an assistant coach for Team USA through the 2010 Olympic Winter Games.

In November 2008, Flint was an assistant coach for the U.S. Women's Select Team at the 2008 Women's Four Nations Cup, where Team USA took home its first championship since 2003. Then, in April 2009, he served in the same role as the U.S. Women's National Team captured the gold medal at the IIHF World Women's Championship.

The 2009-10 season marks the third year of Flint serving as the goaltending consultant for the entire U.S. Women's National Program. At the 2008 IIHF World Women's Championship, he was on hand as the U.S. garnered its second-ever gold medal.

Before being named Northeastern's head coach prior to the 2008-09 season, Flint spent five years as head coach at St. Anselm College in Manchester, N.H., where he compiled an 88-15-2 (.848) record.

Flint arrived at St. Anselm in 2003 to take over a club team making the transition to varsity status, and he made it an immediate winner. In 2007-08, the Hawks posted their fourth straight 20-win season with a 23-2-1 record, which included a 17-1-1 mark in the ECAC East to secure first place. In their four seasons as a varsity team under Flint, the Hawks won two ECAC East regular season championships and three ECAC Open Tournament championships. Flint was recognized as ECAC East Coach of the Year and a finalist for National Coach of the Year three consecutive seasons from 2006-08. Because of its status as a non-scholarship Division II institution, St. Anselm was not eligible to compete in the ECAC East Tournament or the NCAA Division III Tournament.

Flint produced three ECAC East Players of the Year, two ECAC East Rookies of the Year, one ECAC East Goalie of the Year, one First Team All-American and three Second Team All-Americans.

Prior to his success with the women's hockey program, Flint served as assistant coach of the St. Anselm men's ice hockey team for seven seasons. During his tenure, Flint was responsible for recruiting and coordinating the team's defense and goaltending. The Hawks won back-to-back ECAC Division II Championships from 2000-01. A certified athletic trainer and strength & conditioning specialist, Flint was also the assistant athletic trainer at St. Anselm.

Since 1999, Flint has also worked at the Superskills Training Center in Tewksbury, Mass., as the director of off-ice conditioning and assistant to the director of on-ice instruction. At Superskills, Flint instructs and trains both collegiate and professional goaltenders, including NHL goalies Peter Skudra, Andrew Raycroft and Scott Clemmensen.

A 1993 graduate of North Adams State College (now the Massachusetts College of Liberal Arts), Flint received his bachelor's degree in biology with a concentration in sports medicine. Flint was a four-year goaltender on the varsity men's ice hockey team at North Adams State and was named the team's MVP as a senior.

He and his wife, Alison, have two children, Paige and Tate. They regularly reside in Manchester, N.H., although he will be based in Blaine, Minn., in the lead-up to the Vancouver Games.

In her nine seasons with St. Lawrence, she helped the Saints qualify for the NCAA tournament five times, making it to the Frozen Four on each occasion and playing in the title game in 2001.

A 1998 graduate of Brown University, McKenna played four seasons for the Bears, and helped the team capture an ECAC regular-season or tournament title three times. In her senior year, Brown played in the first-ever women's ice hockey national championship game, where the Bears fell to the University of New Hampshire.

A certified strength and conditioning coach, McKenna developed and monitored the year-round training program of the St. Lawrence women's ice hockey squad.

After receiving her bachelor's degree from Brown in 1998, McKenna added a master's degree from St. Lawrence in 2000.
